This Week In News: Wednesday, May 8, 2019

Hello,

It's Wednesday, so, of course, it's Rob Burgess, NUVO News Editor, back with you this lovely spring day. How is everyone feeling today? Good? Oh, me? Well, I'm a bit tired. I stayed up until 2 a.m. last night tracking the 2019 Marion County municipal primary election results. A few days ago, I received an email from the Marion County Election Board saying the final results would be up by midnight. It turns out that was mostly true, except for the final six of the 277 vote centers. Those still hadn't come in by the time I passed out last night, and they still weren't updated when I woke up this morning. I just refreshed the website, and it looks like all but one of the vote centers' results are now in.

Once they all come through, I'm going to update the story I published this morning about the Marion County Municipal Primary Election Results with the final counts and voter turnout numbers.

I want to once again thank all the Indianapolis City-County Council and mayoral candidates who took the time to answer the questions submitted by and voted upon by you, our readers. If you haven't had a chance yet, you really should check out our 2019 Primary Voters Guide. If you missed it before yesterday's primary election, don't worry. It's formatted as to be useful during the upcoming November general election, as well. The issues they addressed will still be at the top of the list, and both Republican and Democratic candidates in the races answered the questions.

If you're a NUVO member (and you are a member, right?) you already had first access to this, but I wanted to share some more of our expanded video and audio efforts. This week, I have for your listening pleasure two conversations with the hosts of the Drink Culture podcast. The first was recorded at Listen Hear with Jared Byczko and Fabian Rodriguez about starting the self-described "Official Podcast of Indianapolis." And, the second was recorded at the NUVO office with Hayley Brown. We discussed a number of topics, but her love of Harry Potter certainly shone through. Let me know what you think of these, as we're always trying to improve.

Tonight I'm really excited because I was able to secure media credentials to the Indianapolis Public Library Foundation's 42nd annual Marian McFadden Memorial Lecture, which starts at 7 p.m. at Clowes Memorial Hall of Butler University, 4602 Sunset Ave. The presenter is none other than Ta-Nehisi Coates, one of my favorite writers. If you haven't read his book, Between the World and Me, you definitely should, as it's absolutely amazing. I already asked, and I don't think they'll let me, but if you think of any questions I should ask him while I'm there feel free to email me at rburgess@nuvo.net.

Have a great rest of your week!

Best,

Rob Burgess
